What is the Harrisonburg-Rockingham Food Coalition?
The Harrisonburg-Rockingham (H-R) Food Coalition is a connection point between the many different nonprofit organizations, faith communities and businesses involved in collecting, sharing, growing, storing, delivering and distributing food to residents of Harrisonburg City and Rockingham County experiencing food insecurity.

What are the goals of the H-R Food Coalition?
- To increase communication and collaboration between the many organizations working around food access issues in our local area.
- To create a website to connect people experiencing food insecurity with access to groceries, hot meals and other food-related resources.
- To build a stronger network of partners to leverage our collective energy and resources as we work toward ending food insecurity in Harrisonburg City and Rockingham County.

Who should join the H-R Food Coalition?
Membership in the Harrisonburg-Rockingham Food Coalition is open to any organization in the local area working towards addressing food insecurity for residents of Harrisonburg City and Rockingham County. The H-R Food Coalition is currently made up of 40 nonprofit, faith-based and community organizations as well as local businesses.

Join the Harrisonburg-Rockingham Food Coalition!
The H-R Food Coalition meets on a monthly basis virtually to connect and learn with each other, share information and updates, and strategize around increasing access to food and food-related resources.
